

EV GRIEVE

EV GRIEVE IS AN EAST VILLAGE BLOG WHERE YOU'LL FIND LOCAL NEWS ON THE REAL ESTATE, RESTAURANTS AND RESIDENTS OF THE EAST VILLAGE NYC.

TUESDAY, APRIL 14, 2015

The Black Rose, 'a neighborhood rock and roll bar,' opening in the former Odessa Cafe and Bar space

[EVG photo from Sunday]

Here are some details on the bar taking over the former Odessa Cafe & Bar at 117 Avenue, via DNAinfo:

The Black Rose, which the owners hope to open at 117 Avenue A by the end of the month, will have more of an "old-school" concept, said co-owner Joseph Daniele.

The owners plan to outfit the space with vintage and repurposed items, like the wooden church doors that have been fashioned into shutters for the restaurant's window, Daniele said. They kept the property's red tin ceilings, he added, and stripped the walls to highlight the building's red brickwork.

Daniele previously owned the Fashion 40 Lounge on 40th Street and Seventh Avenue, per DNAinfo.

And from general manager Ashley Poe: "We're just going to be a neighborhood rock and roll bar where everybody's welcome and

NAMED ONE OF THE BEST NYC NEIGHBORHOOD BLOGS IN 2015

The 24 Best NYC neighborhood blogs: 2015 edition

True New Yorkers know that when it comes to ear-to-the-ground news in your neighborhood, you'll sometimes need to look beyond the Paper of Record (or any of the other big dailies, for that matter). For that, you can turn to local bloggers—the committed...

WWW.BRICKUNDERGROUND.COM

NAMED BEST LOCAL WEBSITE NEW YORK 2014 BY THE VILLAGE VOICE

NAMED ONE OF THE ESSENTIAL NYC NEIGHBORHOOD BLOGS 2014

everybody has fun."

The Black Rose will also offer a limited food menu, including tapas and Italian sandwiches. The hours will be 5 p.m. to 4 a.m. during the week ... and opening at 11 a.m. on weekends.

The Odessa Cafe & Bar closed Aug. 31, 2013. The Odessa restaurant remains next door at No. 119 here between East Seventh Street and St. Mark's Place.

THE MUST-READS: 22 ESSENTIAL NEW YORK NEIGHBORHOOD BLOGS

by Virginia K. Smith | 5/27/14 - 8:59 AM

Previously on EV Grieve:

Building that houses Odessa Cafe and Bar for sale on Avenue A

Former GM from Tribeca's Tiny's & the Bar Upstairs part of team to buy the Odessa Cafe

Reader report: Odessa Cafe and Bar will remain open through Sept. 6

Former Odessa Cafe and Bar will serve comfort food specializing in Nashville Hot Chicken

Now what for the Odessa Cafe and Bar?

POSTED BY GRIEVE AT 10:00 AM

LABELS: ODESSA CAFE AND BAR, THE BLACK ROSE

71 COMMENTS:

NOTORIOUS said...

That sounds cool.

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 10:28 AM

Anonymous said...

Why couldn't it have been a restaurant instead of another bar, a rock'n'roll bar at that? Get ready for the building to shake from the sound system. I'm so tired of the screaming, bellicose drunks every night. This joint is going to be open until 4 a.m. with loud music? Time to alert the community board.

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 10:29 AM

NOTORIOUS said...

And cut to people getting hysterical before the paint is even dry.

BY THE WAY

Here, you'll find things that you may or may not be interested in about the East Village and other parts of New York City.

Appreciating what's here while it's still here. Remembering what's no longer here. Wishing some things weren't here that are here.

WE LOVE TIPS

Have a story idea or tip about something happening in the East Village? Or maybe a photo? Or several photos? Or video! We'd love to hear about it. Or see it. Or something. Please go here to submit a tip.

NAMED BEST NEIGHBORHOOD BLOG IN THE FIRST ANNUAL VILLAGE VOICE WEB AWARDS

RECENT COMMENTS

Anonymous commented on First

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 10:32 AM

Anonymous said...

The doors are a nice touch, but I wonder how much was spent on soundproofing. I feel for the people who live in his building. Odessa was a quiet place to get a drink. This will likely be a whole other thing.

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 10:40 AM

Ken from Ken's Kitchen said...

Not good news, if the Yelp reviews for Daniele's now-defunct Fashion 40 Lounge are an indication of how he does business.

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 10:50 AM

Pinch said...

I believe the owner of Odessa owns this building as well as the building Odessa is in. Do you know if this is correct, Grieve? Just curious.

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 10:59 AM

Anonymous said...

I've got a Black Rose rock n' roll story for ya. It was 1986, I was in high school. I was with my best friend Rachel at Mingles off Route 35 in Sayreville, NJ. She was all "Black Rose is playing and I have a crush on Cord, the lead singer," and I was like sure, whatever. Then Black Rose did a cover of "Chinese Rocks." Rachel was not punk rock at all but I was, so of course Cord and I wound up talking about music, the Damned and the Dead Boys blah blah —and Rachel was PISSED. Gee, sorry for being cool!

Anyway it turns out that despite his spandex leopard pants and knowledge of punk rock, Cord was just another Marlboro High School dipshit (seriously, Marlboro = the worst) and Rachel and I got over this minor blip in our friendship.

Top that, Joseph and Ashley

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 11:00 AM

Anonymous said...

I dislike the fact that bars remain open until 4 am. They should close at 2 if not earlier. I don't give 'em a dime of business.

Look At Pancake Paradise On: D-n!

I thought it was a new pancake place for real.

Scuba Diva commented on Report

190 Bowery's New Tenant Will

Keep: Hey, @ElleSturm: I'm glad I'm not the only person who's relieved they're not going...

Allen commented on After

Midnight Workers Remove

Moishes: I am surprised that no one has mentioned that Moishe's is open again (as of Sunday 4/19). It...

Giovanni commented on Have You

Tried Makki Deli Grocery: Since the English language part of the sign says "Pakistani, Bangladeshi, Indian food" my...

Paddy523 commented on Rumor

Tompkins Square Bagels Possibly: I wish them luck, I just hope they get their shit together in the new location. Also, their bagels...

Giovanni commented on Report

190 Bowery's New Tenant Will

Keep: On a positive note, they will also hire homeless people full time to camp out in front of the...

Anonymous commented on Hey T

Mobile Has Opened On 14th And 1st: Let's all be grateful that the entire intersection will forever be kind of crappy, transient...

Anonymous commented on 2nd And 2nd Coming Up Rosies: I really like the Greek restaurant but I agree with another poster, the space is too big and...

↑ Get Recent Comments Widget

2

Tweet

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 11:03 AM

Crazy Eddie said...

"We're just going to be a neighborhood rock and roll bar where everybody's welcome and everybody has fun."

The 13th Step's response of a Michael Asch, one of the two senior co-owners of the 13th Step, to the EV Grieve blog on 7/29/2010 after they opened:

"We end up with a classic, well-thought-out, safe environment ... a great and inexpensive venue where locals can come and eat, drink, watch sports (yes on 28 TVs -- is that so bad?) ... for just a few bucks."

Fool me once.....

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 11:04 AM

Anonymous said...

This probably passed CB's approval. We've got enough alcohol down here to open a refinery.

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 11:06 AM

Anonymous said...

Doesn't bother me, if what they are saying isn't bullshit. Anything that doesn't attract LOUD, fratty "woo!" screamers is good.

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 11:10 AM

EV Grieve said...

Hey Pinch — Croman/9300 Realty is the landlord

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 11:22 AM

Pinch said...

Ah, ok. I stand corrected. Thanks, Grieve.

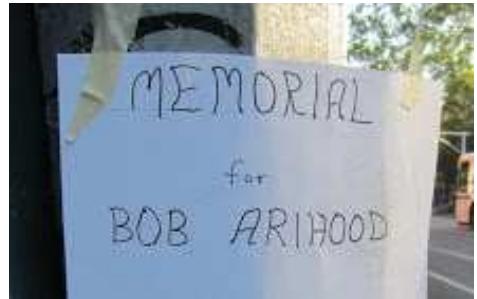

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 11:27 AM

Anonymous said...

This whole thing was so sneaky. Tower Brokerage closed the deal. Tower Brokerage real estate closer for Croman-Icon-banks-ihop-duane reade-----

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 11:27 AM

NEITHER MORE NOR LESS (2006-2011)

SITES OF NOTE

Jeremiah's Vanishing New York

The Grumbler

Neither More Nor Less

Nadie Se Conoce

Flaming Pablum

The Vanishing City

Save the Lower East Side

Mosaic Man Trail

Runnin' Scared/Village Voice

EV Heave

New York Shitty

City Room

New York Observer/Real Estate

STUPEFACTION

Bowery Boogie

Jefferson Siegel

NEW YORK IN THE 1990's PHOTO ARCHIVE

John Koebeck Photography

Nonetheless \(former Esquared\)

The Lo-Down

GammaBlog

East Village Radio

Gog in NYC

Occupy East 4th Street

jdx

NoHo News

Steven Hirsch

Crustypunks

Off The Grid/GVSHP

James Maher Photography

EV Transitions

Anonymous said...

Hey, 11AM. These dudes are talking about classic rock. You know what that is, right? That's, like, Millennial Mood Music.

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 11:31 AM

Anonymous said...

Im surprised by the comment regarding the 4am closing. Lets make NYC even more suburban by closing bars at 2. SMH. Is this an age/generational issue? Too bad you dont have a lawn- you could wave your cane and tell me to get off it. Seriously- you need to move to Queens already. Plenty of quiet streets. Cant have young college grads in this town. And no bars. And no noise. Ridiculous.

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 11:39 AM

NOTORIOUS said...

@CE Are you using the words of one business against another or is there a connection?

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 11:44 AM

Anonymous said...

Open til 4AM during the week? What time do they close on the weekends, never? The poor squirrels in the park across the street will never get a good night's sleep again, just like everyone else in the neighborhood.

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 11:51 AM

Anonymous said...

@ Ken @ Ken's Kitchen, Why are you so negative on everything? Maybe you should open your own thing and show us how it's done since you claim to be such an expert. Last I checked this was NYC. If you guys want quiet and peaceful nights, move up North. I agree with the lawn and cane comment.

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 12:03 PM

Anonymous said...

@11:39 am. Will everyone please stop telling people to move to Queens? Please don't come to Queens, the developers have already seized every available parcel of land. The rents are skyrocketing, and every real estate agent is describing it as the new hot market (the whole borough). Don't expect it to be much different than what Brooklyn and Manhattan are dealing with now.

NY Through the Lens

The Space at Tompkins

NYC the Blog

The Bowery Boys

Twerking Hard in the East Village

Hotel Chelsea Blog

Ephemeral New York

This Ain't the Summer of Love

The Shadow

Curbed

Eater

The Real Deal

Gothamist

Lost City

Forgotten New York

Blah Blog Blah

Greenwich Village Daily Photo

Blog About Town

NYC Taxi Photo

East of Bowery

Scouting New York

Nathan Kensinger Photography

Fine Blog

Slum Goddess

Washington Square Park

Patell and Waterman's History of New York

Daily Intel

Grub Street

Melanie

Melanie 2

Food Bank For New York City

John Penley photo blog

East Village Eats

Bowery Alliance of Neighbors

BLOG ARCHIVE

▼ 2015 (745)

▼ April (137)

First look at Pancake Paradise on Avenue C

April 19

Report: 190 Bowery's new tenant will keep things t...

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 12:05 PM

Anonymous said...

I'm so confused by the comments regarding the bar being opened until 4am - that's the time almost all NYC bars are open until. I don't get the comment...

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 12:17 PM

NOTORIOUS said...

If I were ever to open a local business in the neighborhood, I'd think twice about it because it seems online vitriol comes with the keys.

The shit being flung at a business that hasn't even opened yet borderlines on Portlandia-esque absurdity. It's one thing if they open and turn out to be shitty neighbors, but all these people have done so far is talk a little to a local blog about the nature of their business and design aesthetic.

When they're driven out and replaced with a chain store, be sure to come back and pat yourselves on the back for "saving nyc."

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 12:21 PM

Anonymous said...

Sure, just a neighborhood bar for locals... just like Empellón Al Pastor is just a taco restaurant with a door guy...

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 12:32 PM

Anonymous said...

Excellent!

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 12:38 PM

NOTORIOUS said...

@11:39 AM No, it's perverse elitism. Bars are OK so long as they are called Manitobas, Continental, Double Down or Doc Holidays.

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 12:39 PM

Anonymous said...

Read into his ownership of fashion 40 More closely, he sold his shares after 2 years...I say, welcome to the

Rumor: Tompkins Square

Bagels possibly opening a 2...

T-swirl crêpes for where Subway's 6-inch subs once...

2nd and 2nd coming up Rosie's

From pudding to macaroni at 102 St. Mark's Place

Hey, the T-Mobile has opened on 14th and 1st

Week in Grieveview

Have you tried Makki Deli &amp; Grocery?

Live from A-1 Records...

Giant green baby alert: All American Temper Tot ar...

After midnight, workers remove the Moishe's Bake S...

Full Stop Work Order issued for 117 2nd Ave. for '...

The Times looks into the real-estate holdings of t...

7th Street reopens west of 2nd Avenue

Spring break

A new online resource about the East Village explo...

1st look at the revamped East Village Radio studio...

2nd Avenue update (April 17)

Tomorrow is Record Store Day

Proto's Pizza returns under new ownership on 2nd A...

Seems like old times at the Houston/Bowery Mural W...

Report: 169 Bar will remain open

Stage owner Roman Diakun responds to allegations o... neighborhood. If we as a community are so worried about noise or whatever mischief a 4.a.m. Bar might cause, then why not start with the drugs being sold inside that beautiful park. Grab the pitchforks let's go hunting.

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 12:40 PM

Crazy Eddie said...

@NOTORIOUS Just saying the PR looks familiar. No problem with having a bar there, will keep an open mind and hope for the best.

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 12:48 PM

Anonymous said...

If people are so concerned about bands playing, why don't they petition The Pyramid to close?

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 12:48 PM

Anonymous said...

Its typical EV Grieve to complain about everything. I hope they do well. Its the folks railing about 4 am that aggrivate me. They complain about suburbanization yet they secretly support it. Hypocritical. Bunch of RS scamming closet chain store shoppers. Pathetic really.

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 12:50 PM

Anonymous said...

Here's an original idea, let's open up another Starbucks so people can barely pay their bills while going to school.. you ever think that's what most of these bars do for young people struggling...

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 12:58 PM

Anonymous said...

I think it sounds fun - I could end up being wrong but if it's really a rock and roll type hang we don't have too many around these days so let's see...maybe it will be cool. I'm glad it's not a Southern food/oyster bar/craft beer/ETC

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 1:01 PM

Anonymous said...

In the state I came from bars close at 2 am. I loathe the street noise late at night.

I loathe bars.

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 1:05 PM

About the 'Love Saves the East Village' benefit co...

Ellie & Jack's Bar & Kitchen looking for lodging i...

Deception Burglary alert

2 weeks left to enjoy Lan Cafe

A No Catcall Zone on St. Mark's Place

Out and About in the East Village

Report: Man sentenced to 14 years in prison for ra...

Some love for Paul's Da Burger Joint

Agavi Juice now open on East 7th Street

Marcha Cocina announces itself on Avenue C

Joey Ramone: May 19, 1951 – April 15, 2001

At Sunday night's 2nd Avenue benefit concert at Th...

Noted

The Black Rose, 'a neighborhood rock and roll bar,...

[Updated] Report: Icon Realty serves the Stage an ...

Long-stalled 16-story residential building still s...

Looking at 67 Avenue C, where the condo views are ...

Have you tried Long Bay yet?

City hosting business recovery meeting for merchan...

A good sign outside B&H Dairy?

That recognizable warm, pink glow of the new busin...

Teaser site arrives for the Altes House, 11 boutiq...

Anonymous said...

i personally am hoping that it turns out to be kinda shabby and great and that they play a LOT of thin lizzy there, as the name implies!

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 1:05 PM

Anonymous said...

I hope they are heavy on the Stones, the Who, the Clash, Kinks, Led Zeppelin, T-Rex and +1 on the Thin Lizzy.

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 1:11 PM

Anonymous said...

This actually has the potential to be something awesome. I just hope it's not another frat bar.

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 1:16 PM

Anonymous said...

To those saying it's cool that this place is open until 4 AM because we don't want to live like they do in suburbia I can tell you have not lived in the EV or NYC for that long. This neighborhood was not loud until recently, about the last 5-7 years. Sure the EV had bars that stayed open late but these for the most part were not the kind of place you got piss drunk at. Clubs still existed and they were located away from dense residential neighborhoods like the EV. If you don't think that drunken frat boys will not go here you're crazy. Those guys show up anywhere there is beer and babes. This place will certainly become the bane of anyone living nearby and we are witness to the EV's transition into another "Hells Square" just south of us. Don't be mistaken this is yet another "theme" bar and the owners are trying to recreate a past that did not really exist here and their patrons will never know the difference.

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 1:22 PM

Ken from Ken's Kitchen said...

Anonymous douche April 14, 2015 at 12:03 PM

Guess I struck a nerve or something.

I never claimed to be an expert on anything, rest assured that your weekend barbecues and events in the backyard will be a real hit with the neighbors, especially if they include classic rock at 3:30 in the morning. And I'm not about to "move up north" to suit you and your Philadelphia

Repost: Petition to help reopen the Stage

The Dunkin' Donuts space on East 14th Street is fo...

Harry and Ida's Meat & Supply Co. coming to Avenue...

Whatever is taking the place of the old Odessa has...

Reader report: Pit bull attack on Avenue A

Coming together tonight at Theatre 80 to help the ...

Report: Serial robber suspect busted

Celebrating Easter at St. Nicholas of Myra Orthodo...

Afternoon delight

Mayor's Fund raises $125,000 in response to East V...

Reminders: Small Biz Crawl is today at noon

[Updated] Chuckie is missing Standings, Burp Castle and Jimmy's No. 43 have reo...

Petition to help reopen the Stage

The Belgian Room and Hop Devil Grill closed for no...

The big Sleep

Parkside Lounge fundraiser brings in more than $5K...

EV Grieve Etc.: No contract renewal for Cooper Uni...

Some activity at the former Mary Help of Christian...

Dan and John's Wings opening a storefront on 1st A...

St. Mark's Place really has your e-cigarette needs...

Ethos Meze East Village has been closed for renova...

Rent a parlor floor on East 14th Street

biz partner.

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 1:30 PM

Anonymous said...

1:05 AKA 1:11 AKA 1:16 Got it darlin, take a breather.

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 1:33 PM

Anonymous said...

Born in Upper Manhattan. Lived in EV 22 years. There were plenty of bars we got piss drunk at. I guess all the development and transplants dont like that. This is typical. You moved in and want changes. It all went downhill when white suburbanites moved here and decided it had to be a suburb. To the commenter who noted the 2am closing- please go home. This is supposed to be the city that never sleeps. Right? Take your attitude and strollers. The UES is ready and waiting. Stop the lies. You Bloomberg voting chain store shopping Starbucks loving $1000 stroller pushing idiots. During your next trip to Walgreens buy a mirror. Look in it. See the problem

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 1:42 PM

Anonymous said...

I Did a search on his name, says he is An actor, if it's the same person....cool

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 2:00 PM

uncle Pete said...

they have 2am closing times in Boston. basically anywhere the English had first would still have Puritan laws. I for one am glad we have no Puritan nonsense to deal with. Thank the Dutch for our liberties here!

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 3:05 PM

Anonymous said...

Nice trolling attempts, newbie trolls. Stop trying to sell us on this place cuz we ain't buyin' it.

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 3:09 PM

Anonymous said...

Must agree with 1:42 and also disagree/agree with 1:22 - lived in EV myself since 1993 and the bars always closed at 4am - the way it should be. I get that the lame-o frat gangs did not exist around here then and trust me I can't stand it

Explosion stories: East Village business owners bo...

Reader report: San Marzano reopens tomorrow

Lulu grows up

There's a campaign to buy the women suing over the...

Looking at 117 2nd Ave., another building owned by...

How to help 73-year-old East Village mainstay B&H...

A pop-up shop for damaged East Village boutique En...

14th and C now waiting for the Karl Fischer-design...

Here's what's coming to the former Hummus Place sp...

Patti Smith is headlining the East Village relief ...

Reminders: Fundraiser for 2nd Avenue tonight at th...

Report: Investigators eye potential murder charges...

Out and About in the East Village

New website offers East Village Relief for busines...

Tuome expected to be back open in another 2 weeks

Katz's is now the last business on East Houston be...

Remembering Moises Ismael Locón Yac

Cops say this guy has robbed 6 local businesses in...

Please do not deface the Joe Strummer mural

EV Grieve Etc.: Tickets for Taste of 7th; new chai...

[Updated] 2nd Avenue subletters suing for $40 mill...

'Small Biz Crawl' this Saturday on 2nd Avenue either - the suburban bro vibe is antithesis of "cool" but we can't not have bars open late because of these idiots only. It's a tough call!

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 3:12 PM

Anonymous said...

I do not get what people are complaining about. It's not like that spot used to be a bookstore or something. The previous location was a bar. Adjacent is Odessa, a diner where drunk folks go to eat after a night of drinking. So this area has always been a thoroughfare for drunks.

Given that this new bar is going with a classic rock theme and serving craft beer, I doubt frat boys are the target. But we'll see once it opens.

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 3:38 PM

Anonymous said...

RE EV noise, I moved to the EV in 1980 after school. It was relatively quiet. No cell phones, no bars on Ave. B (I live on 6th between A-B), no car alarms, slightly fewer emergency sirens.

Fewer people walking down the street at midnight, as the EV was a more dangerous place and had that reputation. Sleeping was a lot easier and largely interruption-free. Bring back the 80s as far as I'm concerned, even though I got mugged once as did a number of acquaintances. Who ever invented car alarms s/b given life in prison.

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 3:48 PM

Anonymous said...

Sorry but real rock and roll bars do not have tapas.

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 4:03 PM

Anonymous said...

Just for the record CB 3 did not approve this bar, it was a corporate change. That means two things: the former owner is part owner of the new space so if it becomes a shit-show we have Odessa to thank and 2: they are supposed to assume the same operation, so the accordion doors are not legal as is anything different from what was at Odessa. So don't hang this on the CB if it is a problem as it is clearly the case of the new owners doing a classic bait and switch.

Everyone carrying on about those of us who have issues moving to the suburbs really don't get it. Bars in the EV

Here is a new building on East 14th Street

Work continues at interesting new business coming ...

Mi Garba is now open on 4th Avenue

Remembering East Village blast victim Nicholas Fig...

Report: 2nd Avenue blast 'is likely going to end u...

Jupiter and moons tonight

Shakespeare in the Parking Lot has a new parking l...

Report: Plumber claims landlord's son ordered him ...

A little more about East Village Organic, opening ...

Shaping up the former Simone Guayoyo and Tuome remain closed after fires

Commercial space at 171 Avenue A is now on the mar...

Standings in exile

Lord Hamm's, now serving very large sandwiches on ...

Easter greetings from Sir Gus Bear

Report: Reopened businesses on 2nd Avenue continue...

2nd Avenue update (April 4)

A corner view

Noted

Tonight's photogenic moon

The #NoNewNYPD rally on Avenue A

New York state of mind

Good Friday

April 3

Spring where we can get it

EV Grieve Etc.: Jesse Malin's new record; Nevada ...

have always closed at 4 and there have always been bars. However back then they never had open windows and doors or backyards. Does Lucy's, does Mona's, does Doc Holliday's, etc. It's these places that want giant open doors and backyards that are the problem, and that seems to be the majority. So stop your nonsense.

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 4:20 PM

Anonymous said...

Community Boards generally do not generally allow new businesses like this to stay open until 4AM in residential areas. Instead they put them on a probation period for the first year wth a 1am or 2am closing time. If they prove they can operate without being a neighborhood nuisance then they can stay open later.

If we don't want the EV to turn into Hell Square North then limits like this are necessary. Most operators opening clubs lie about their intentions and once they get the liquor license its too late to do anything about it.

Last time I checked the EV was still a residential neighborhood, not 10th Avenue with all the noisy clubs that are open all night long and where rappers and NBA basketball players brawl and get stabbed at 4am. They need to put this place on probation until they prove they can be a good neighbor.

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 4:27 PM

Anonymous said...

Sounds good to me. I would be happy to hear it featured live rock, since we have lost so many live music venues over the years.

Even recorded rock would be good though. Sure beats the top-40 trash that pervades most watering holes.

I wish them success with this. Will check it out.

Those concerned about the crowd: We make the crowd as well. Attend the place and help set the tone as you see fit.

- East Villager

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 4:27 PM

DrBOP said...

It's a personality (differences) crisis...

2nd Avenue update (April 3)

Blockheads bringing their San Francisco-style burr...

Spina's Italian fare exits Avenue B; Indian food o...

Tuome remains closed on East 5th Street

When the world's top collectors of Dom Pérignon ro...

Noted

2nd Avenue update (April 2)

RIP Moises Ismael Locón Yac The possibility that the Stage won't reopen on 2nd...

Taking the Hummus Place off St. Mark's Place

Paprika hasn't been open lately on St. Mark's Plac...

Another East Village cat reunion

Tall man allegedly steals expensive statue

Local elected officials holding informational sess...

2nd Avenue update (April 1)

The Church of the Nativity is distributing clothes...

25 Avenue B is on the market

Sign of Spice on 1st Avenue

Elvis Guesthouse officially ready for occupancy to...

► March (224)

► February (176)

► January (208)

► 2014 (2637)

► 2013 (3188)

► 2012 (3345)

► 2011 (3660)

► 2010 (3045)

► 2009 (2490)

► 2008 (1382)

► 2007 (8)

...Change into the wolfman howlin' at the moon, HOOOwww....

...But now, frustration and heartache is what you got.

Wait.....what?....

...What's love got to do with it?

...work on through to the other side.

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 4:33 PM

Anonymous said...

I have no problem with a bar open until 4AM -- and I think most here would agree as well, and we don't need to move to Queens, which has its own set of problems -- it's simply the quality of the clientele who spill out of those places these days.

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 4:53 PM

Anonymous said...

Re Anon3:48pm: "Who ever invented car alarms s/b given life in prison."

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Darrell\_Issa#Directed\_Electronics

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 4:54 PM

TXC said...

This is New York City, where bars stay open until 4 am. That's why I'm here.

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 5:26 PM

Anonymous said...

@ 4:20 aren't bars / rest. required to close their backyards after 10pm?

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 5:49 PM

blue glass said...

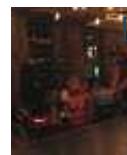

Ken said: "Last I checked this was NYC. If you guys want

POPULAR POSTS

[Updated] There is a woman who has been walking around the East Village topless

NSFW if you keep scrolling
In the past two weeks, multiple readers have sent us emails asking if we had seen a woman walking around the ne...

[Updated] Female diner decides to go topless last night at Verso

A story from the heatwave. At Verso last night, two diners entered the Italian bistro on Avenue C and East Eighth Street ... the female ...

[Updating] Explosion on 2nd Avenue and East 7th Street

Crazy explosion on 7 and 2nd east village #fire #explosion pic.twitter.com/U3Z4mx3Wut — JK (@Jamie_S_Kennedy) March 26, 2015 Just heard...

[Updated] RIP Maggie Estep

Photo from October 2013 by Marissa Molnar via Facebook ] Word is spreading that Maggie Estep , the writer-poet-performance artist and a...

[A Google Glass Feast] Here's a story coming from Feast , the one-plus-year-old restaurant on Third Avenue near East 13th Street. Feast has enjoyed positiv...

quiet and peaceful nights, move up North. I agree with the lawn and cane comment."

STOP TELLING US TO MOVE if we can't stand loud, obnoxious, inconsiderate and selfish behavior!

it takes bucks to live in a place that has a lawn. you need a car, and unless you work near your lawn you probably commute to the city for your job. and judging by your cane comment you probably think that everyone that objects to what's going on is too old to live here.

city folks used to be able to co-exist with bars and clubs and still live somewhere that was somewhat quiet and almost peaceful. tourists (and there were always tourists) respected residential neighborhoods.

fire engines, ambulances and garbage trucks can be ignored. stupid drunks that think it's cool to be loud and obnoxious can't.

universities took over, the club scene expanded, and rooftop parties and bars proliferated.

the inconsiderate, loud, and selfish rule - as do greedy landlords, and patrons and visitors.

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 5:56 PM

Anonymous said...

Who said anything about this bar offering live music? You guys are making things up at this point.

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 6:17 PM

Anonymous said...

Should be called 14th motherfucker step!

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 6:34 PM

Scooby said...

"Bars are OK so long as they are called Manitobas, Continental, Double Down or Doc Holidays." Yes - yes they are...

And the people, for the most part, that go to THESE bars as REGULARS are respectful of the neighborhood upon exiting the bars. No - not ALL of them but far more than the "bros 'n hoes" places.

This does sound like a place that could be pretty cool - give 'em a chance before settin' up your gallows, ya wankers...

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 6:36 PM

Noted

A scene from yesterday morning over on East Sixth Street, where David Schwimmer is apparently moving into a newly created mansion ... some...

Exclusive: East Village Radio is signing off after 11 years; final day of broadcasting is May 23

[ Image via ] East Village Radio , the 11-year-old Internet radio station with a tiny storefront studio on First Avenue, is shutting down...

Yaffa Cafe is officially gone; back garden dismantled

[ EVG file photo ] Turns out Yaffa Cafe at 97 St. Mark's Place will not be reopening after all. They tweeted the news out last even...

Outrage over total demolition of historic East Sixth Street townhouse

A few weeks ago, we pointed out the ongoing demolition at 331 E. Sixth St. , described in a real-estate listing this way: "this home w...

RIP LES Jewels

[ Photo from 2011 by Bob Arihood ] Word is circulating in Tompkins Square Park today that LES Jewels, a familiar figure in the neighborho...

EV GRIEVE ELSEWHERE

The Huffington Post Gothamist
Gawker Grub Street Curbed Eater
Racked The Villager The Real Deal

NOTORIOUS said...

Scooby, we've been to Doc Holidays MANY times together and the music is so pumped I'd refer to it as weaponized, the atmosphere is loud as fuck, and there are a fair share of bros. I like all the bars I mentioned but please don't make them sound like church on Sunday. They're just as loud as any other bar.

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 9:00 PM

Anonymous said...

If this isn't some theme-franchise joint, I predict that it will become one - with locations (with identical decor from supplied kits) in Chicago, St. Louis, Austin, Toronto, Cleveland, and suburban Los Angeles.

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 10:18 PM

Anonymous said...

What you mean, rock and roll? Cuz the rock and roll that I know, ain't gonna pay the bills in 2015 East Village.

APRIL 14, 2015 AT 10:41 PM

Anonymous said...

Er, Millennials luv dat sh!t. I've been dating a 27-year-old. I just said to him, "you don't seem to listen to anything that was recorded before you were born!" Karaoke with his pals? Same story. 80% pre-1980s. Go figure.

APRIL 15, 2015 AT 2:29 AM

Anonymous said...

Please vote with your $$$ and patronize the bars you like. If Odessa could make it there they'd still be there. Sad but true. I live at street level (9th - half a block from the horrible 13th Step) and, sorry to say, I kind of like the noise. And the fact that Veselka can stay open 24/7 because there are enough patrons to do so. Not crazy about this area becoming anything like Hell Square in the LES... But I sure like the party atmosphere we have now. I'm glad I live in the city that never sleeps.

APRIL 15, 2015 AT 2:50 AM

Anonymous said...

Jesus this is the least rock n' roll comment section of all time, could you people be any more boring

APRIL 15, 2015 AT 5:49 AM

Columbia Spectator

---

CONTACT INFO

Try grieve98 at gmail dot com

---

CONTRIBUTORS

Blue Glass

Bobby Williams

Crazy Eddie

Dave on 7th

Derek Berg

James Maher

jdx

Michael Sean Edwards

Stacie Joy

The Long-Lost Intern of EV Grieve

---

HERE AND NOW

---

SUBSCRIBE NOW

Subscribe in a reader

---

FACEBOOK BADGE

E.V. Grieve's Profile

Create Your Badge

Anonymous said...

I'm going to just hope for a minute that it's a Scrap Bar vibe for 2015. Who knows?

APRIL 15, 2015 AT 10:12 AM

EV

Anonymous said...

They were going to call it "The Doors" but then they heard that name was already taken by some band.

APRIL 15, 2015 AT 12:24 PM

Anonymous said...

The EV is now just angry entitled RS apt dwellers. They want quiet. No rock and roll. They say one thing but mean another. Sad. You are the types who really like the whitewashed homogenized EV. Close the bars at 11pm! No live music! No one under 25! Pathetic.

APRIL 15, 2015 AT 2:10 PM

Anonymous said...

Well said East Villager!!

APRIL 15, 2015 AT 3:16 PM

Anonymous said...

The East Village 2015: People under 35 and the rest who hate them, anything new, and everything in general.

APRIL 15, 2015 AT 4:56 PM

Anonymous said...

I don't another bar in the East Village, I want a new live music venue, record store, art gallery, book store, something which facilitates creativity like those things.

How many bars does one neighborhood need?

I mean if you're gonna open one at least have something creative in it? I'm sure some places do and props o them, but most of these places are just places to drink, nothing more.

APRIL 15, 2015 AT 11:33 PM

Marty E. said...

From the description, it sounds like it's going to be my kind of place, so I'll definitely check it out.

And to the people complaining about the 4am bar-closing time: Welcome to New York.

APRIL 19, 2015 AT 3:31 PM

Post a Comment

LINKS TO THIS POST

Create a Link

Newer Post

Home

Older Post

Subscribe to: Post Comments \(Atom\)

SUBSCRIBE TO

POSTS ▾

COMMENTS ▾